Hill burden of obseity is so distressing and is genurally so difficult to get rid of with any quarters. The proparation is not unknown here already, but the obstacles in the way of its supply to the general public were

Era the important discovery of Antipon the treatments usually employed for the reduction of weight included starration dietary rules, sweating and purging, together with mineral drugging. All these things are weakening in the extreme, and, when obstinately persisted in, ruinous to the constitution. Antipon is diametrically opposed to such drastic methods.

To expel the superfluous fatty matter from the system is all very well, but the body must be amply nourished at the same time. Now, Antipon not only rapidly eliminates the excess of fat, but overcomes the unfortunate tendency to "run to fat." Ample wholesome food therefore becomes Antipon's strength-giving ally, and there is no need to dread that the extra nourishment taken will being about a re-development taken will bring about a re development of excessive latty tissue.

HOW THE GERMAN OFFICERS DO THEIR LOOTING.

An excellent series of monographs on particular aspects of the war is being issued by a Paris firm of publishers, under the general title of "Eye-witnesses M. Gabriel Mourey, the heeper of th

On the whole, the priceless historical freasures and objects of art, of which the palace is full, were respected by th enemy. After their departure M. Mou rey made an inventory of the good olen. We quote the list :-

But if the pulsee escaped lightly, that was not the case with the rest of Compiegne. M. Mourey thus describes the misuse and looting of a private mansion THE 74rm PUNJABIS will perform situated in the public square just onposite to the palace:-

"For two days joyous shouts, bursts of laughter, and singing have been coming from the house. A band of officers, soldiers, and non-commissioned officers have taken possession of it; they have brought in women, and a German orgy The Robinson Piano Co., and at either

From the ground flow windows the officers call to their comrades who are passing; the common sol-, diers follow their example; through the open grating the spectacle is afforded of sales emptied of their contents, trunks broken open, heaps of smashed furniture, tables loaded which champagne, bottles with their necks broken off. There is a constant coming in and going out, and eating and drinking; the whole of the spike-helmeted garrison of Compiegne will have passed throught its doors; not one of them, be sure, comes out empty-

Duspits the war, despits the threatened visits of German sircraft, despite the all-absorbing work of caring for the wounded the fair sex of Paris has found the time to roice an indigunat protest against the an nouncoment printed in the American newspapers that a certain well known actress who is soon to arrive in New York, is the most beautiful woman in Paris.

Milemitocelyne is a Very good looking young lady, an extremely good ooking roung lady, if you please, but from this to being the most boutiful woman of the French espital there is a considerable distance to be traversel, and there are soveral we men in Paris who would have n far greater right to the title, if such a title would be possible to confer," explained a well known actives, hereoff a noted boauty. The request for an answer to the question who is the most beautiful woman to Paris. has brought forth as many names as the number of persons approached. They include Mme Letellier, Milo. Marthe Urban, Mile. Irene Bordoni, Mile. Yaitha Chenal.

CONNORSEUR'S VIEWS ...

"The most benutiful woman in Paris Is no single individual, she is a legion." declared Baron de Gerando, admittedly the greatest connoisseur of femili a beauty in Paris society. "The expression itself is an arenaism, a remainder; so to say, of the days when the approbation of the Sovereign was necessary to ... obtaining the title, and the last woman to pessess it was the Counters de Castiglione, during the roign of Napoleon III. Paris society is really a conglumeration of several societies, and each of these possesses its most beautiful woman. In the absence of a court, there can be notifinal judgment n this respect, and the rights of the several claimants can never be satisfactorily actiled. If one speaks of sensational beauty a beauty that forces admi ation without admitting even the possibility of a dispute, The last instance of such was the beauty of Madamo G., during the presidency of Marshal Macmahon and of M. Casimir Perier. All of Paris crowded to the Salon to see her portrait; but even at that, she was never declared to be the 'most beautiful woman in Paris.' As for the present. the task of one who would designate a woman as holding the beauty championship of Paris would be far more difficult than that of Paris of Troy, and he would indeed be a hero who would dare to render a verdict in this respect."

BEAUTY IN WAR-TIME.  The most beautiful women in Paris?" usried a well-known portrait painter All Paris women are beautiful, for they possess that inexplicable something which puts expressive gracefulness into every one of their features, into every one of their movements. To say the most brantifa one that shows the greatest devotion to the cause for which France is fighting at present is the most beautiful woman in author whose novels of the days before the war dealt with the psychological side of feminine beauty. But if it amuses our Yankes confreres to designate. Mile. - as the impersonation of feminine beauty in Paris, why rob them of the opportunity to pay a compliment to all Paris examine it closely, and then stick it in women in the person fone? I know Mile.

be her, and not someone else, whom our Trans-atlantic friends have happened to designat- the beauty queen of Paris. I tremble to think where their exuberance might have let them in an thor one. Not even the question of the most beautiful woman, however, has distracted the attention of the Paris women from the fact that winter is approaching once more, and with it the cold and stormy days when the soldier will need again all the warm things that kept on pouring into the trenches during the last winter months. * Like the soldier, with the soldiers, and for the soldiers, is the motto of the Paris women at present; but wait till the war is over. and the Yantes journalists will hear something on the subject of the * most beautiful woman in Paris."

THE FATE OF THE GERMAN COLONIES.

ONE cause of the war was nudoubtedly the need of more room for Germany's" growing population. In the New Statesman Sir Harry Johnston says that the Allies did everything in their power to meet Germany's desires for oversea possessions and the German preparations for war were made because the Powers refused to present to the Extherland all that they insistently at the Magistracy this morning before Mr demanded. He says: "Germany plunged into war-(I) To secure second outlet on the North Sea (the mouth of the Scheldt); (2) to obtain for her sister State, Austria, th hegemony of the Balkan Peninsula

Prior to the war Britain, France. Russia, Belgium, and Portugal had initialed or verbally accepted understandings with Germany which would have greatly enlarged the area of the German domains in Africa and Asia. and which gave Austria a privileged position in Albania, and Germany much the same position in the Turkish Empire that Great Britain holds in Egypt. SWIMMING.

L ng-distance swimming appears to be popular in Tokohama. Mr. Oscar Stroma has sadded to the achievements of local nthletes by swimming from Tomicks to the P.M. Wherl, a distance of about eigh miles, being in the water six and threequarter hours, which, considering the hoavy son, is a remarkably fine feat. Mr. strome, says the "Japan Gazette," took the water at Tomicka at 7.18, being som off by Mossrs Parkhill, FuSharp, and Schellenberg, and being accompanied, in a sampan, by Mr. L. Watson and three Bandces. A the time of starting a strong north-easterly wind was blowing, this developing later into a good breeze. When Mr. Strome reached Sannotani Bluff a head sea was encountered, and whom heading for Honmoku Bluff he met a high sea and a strong wind, with

GERMANS IN THE SHAMEEN.

Colonel Yate (M.P. for the Melton division of Leicestershire) in the House of Commons asked whether Germans were still permitted to reside in the Shameen territory, Canton, wifich was leased to Great Britain. The German Consulate, Bank and Post Office there were allowed to do business.

Lord Robort Cocil, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in reply. said that China remains in sovereignty of the Shameen and that, therefore, foreible ejection of German tenants, unless they break the conditions of their leases, would be a breach of neutrality and of the sovereignty of Chins.

THE GALLIPOLI OPERATIONS.

EXPEDIENCY OF MITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS RAISED.

London, Oct. 15. In the House of Lords, Lord Wilner suggested that the Allied troops in Gallipoli should be withdrawn and transferred to some other theatre of the war.

The Marquis of Lansdowne said that while an examination of the situation by the military authorities of the Allies was proceeding, it would be most unfortunate if the House passed judgment on the operations or attempted to reveal in anticipation what would likely be the future conduct of operations.

Lord Crewa also deprecated discussion.

Lord Ribblesdalo said that the new and difficult situation gave the fovernment an opportunity to consider whether they could not with proper dignity and with serious regard to all the circumstances get out of the unfortunate adventure in the Dardanelles. The Government ought to state whether they were considering anything of the sort.

GERMANS FEAR AN AERIAL RAID.

PANIC AT A "REHEARSAL."

LONDON, Oct. 15. A message from Copenhagen states. Bremen, Hamburg, Kiel and Jantzig newspapers describe the preparations in German coastal towns against n nerial raid. The people have been elaborately warned that in the event of a faid gues would be fired and the Church hells would be rung.

The authorities decided on a rehearent, but when the firing and bellringing began the people in every town, instead of obeying instructions, panicked frightfully, and rushed en masse to Military Headquarters.

GREATBRITAIN'S POLICY

IN THE BALKANS. STATEMENT BY SIR EDWARD

Loydon, Oct. - L. Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, in a statement made to the House of Commons on the position in the Balkane, emphasised that it dealt with the diplomatic and not the realitary side of the situation. He declined to reply to the criticism of a portion of the Press upon the diplomacy pursued in the Balkana because this was a somewhat delicate time for the discussion, and he proposed to confine himself to a short resume of the general objects of British diplomatic

The entry of Turkey. into the war, changed everything. Turkish ships were forced by German officers to fire upon Rassian ports and shipping without notice or provocation. All the obligations of the Allies towards Turkey then cessed.

> RIVAL POLICIES. The right hon, gentleman then ax plained how the Allies worked for an agreement in the Balkans, but the Sovereigns and the Governments Germany, Austria, and Bulgaria had succeeded in forcing a policy of war against that of the Allies, which was founded upon the realisation of the hopes and aspirations of all the Balkan States, implying the opportunity to peoples of the same race, sentiments, and religion to join themselves to that State which was most akin to them.

In the course of the negotiations we this Department against persons were informed that the Central Powers had offered Bulgaria more for neutrality than the Allies could, in common fairness, offer for Bulgaria's active supcially informed M. Bulgaria's attack on Serbia: raises reece's Treaty obligations. For the attitude and intentions of the Greek Government at the moment, and the feelings of the Greek people, I can only refer you to the recent speeches of Zaimis and Venezelos; but it is obvious that the interests of Greece and Serbia are now one, and, in the long run, they stand or fall-together. Greece formally protested when first the Allied troops arrived, but that the assistance we are thus sending to Serbia is welcome proved by the circumstances of the land-

> G. Gonre, a foreman at Taikoo Dock, said he had b en in charge of the salvage. She was now up ou the slip. In the bow there was a small hele but he was not certain whether that would be under the water or just above it. The hole was not large enough to admit of the passage of a pencil, and was probably caused by the an chor striking the side. There was a tidy lot, ten or twelve tons, of cargo on the tweendecks, iron. Chinese chow and tobacco. The fore-hold was partly full, and the after hold was full. He thought the hole had been moder water, and the water had rushed thr ugh it and got under the cargo in the after part of the vessel, unseen. Mr. Hall, reculed, said there was a ton or a ton and a half of coal in the engine room on the port side. It might be that they had not had sufficient bunker room or that it was easier to get a there. It would tend to give the vessel a list to port.

This concluded the evidence. Mr P. H. King, Assistant Superintindent of Police, addressing the Court, said that the launch sank through a chain of circumstances. The other issuch was not running that morning and accordingly there was a large amount of cargo, which was stowed on the port side, while a very large number of passengers came on to the launch that morning. There was moreover the presence of the small hole and the coal in the engine-room. Everything-helped to give the launch's tremendous list to port on that morning, and down she went. SWEDEN AND THE WAR. (To the Editor of the "CHINE MAIL."

Dear Sir,-The China Mail of the 13th October contains a leading article headed will Sweden join in the Gigantic Un-heaval," in which extracts from English and Russian newspapers relating to Sweden and the Great War are reproduced. Being a Swede I would feel match obliged if you would allow mo to make a few remarks and corrections about the upinions and statements made.

I would then start with the opinions expressed in the Russkoys Slow and the Merhing Post, which both refer to a desire on the part of Sweden to pay off old scores against Hu-sis, notably the loss of Finland a hundred years ago. Since the War started statements to this effect have appeared now and then in the English. French, and Russian French, but I can assure" you that for many, many years nothing has been further from the mind of the Swedish people than the recovery of Finland, Liven should Finland, be given back to Sweden without the least excritice life or property Sweden would not accept . and every man who understands anything about politics and the position ... Sweden in Northern Europe will know the reason why. What Sweden would gree! with satisfaction would be to see Finland elther placed in the position she was up to: and including the reign of Cor Alexander III or as an Independent State. The statement made by the London Paper "Justice" that the Swedish Army since the war has been almost doubled and that "Fifty now important officers" posts have been created? is entirely wrong. The present reforms of the Swedish Army and Navy have been contemplated for years and were decided upon before the war broke out, and they were aimed not at increasing numbers but at increasing the efficiency of the Amy and Navy. The main points of the reforms mentioned are: A longthoning of the turm of service from about 9 months to about 12 months for the main body of the 'Army; an increase of the number of educated going men from the Universities, etc., to be trained for the position of non-commissioned officers, these having to undergo about 500 days training, the creation of an Inspector-General for the Infantry and the building of three new m'n of war, some destroyers, etc. The fact that more troops than usual are concentrated on the Russo-Swedish frontier is solely due to Russia in the first justance having increased her troops in the same The contention that the Swedish Army is fully mobilised is absolutely wrong Certain points and positions are mate fally strengthened; that is true, and that is also ab olutely necessary considering Sweden' close position to Russia and Germany and her desire to strongly defend her neutrality. I believe that the Russo-German senfight near Gotland and the the incident when German destroyers attacked the stranded English submarine at Saltholmen fully justifies such precautions being taken and are in the interest not only of Sweden but also of the belligarents. I would not have written against this above statements, had it not been for the fact that of late quite a number of articles have appeared trying to represent Sweden as hostile to the Allies and especially to to Russia. Sweden will never willing to of her own accord join in the war times 8 sho is driven to it by any of the Great Powers wanting to encroach on her Inde-

Enclosing my card, I remain. Dear Sir. Yours faithfully,

Hongkong, Oct. 16. [We are glad to publish this letter from Swedish gentleman resident in the Colony, as there can be no doubt that the general impression is that Sweden is mo-German.—Ed.]
